1957 The Arch

CAROLYN BAIN EDITOR
THE LION'S DEN
1957

Dear Student,

The 1957 ARCH staff has worked many hours to produce for you a yearbook that will adequately represent the College, and give the alumni and surrounding communities a view of the progress of the College. The staff has included scenes from all phases of college life: the development and expansion of the institution in all phases of academic endeavor; the participation of students in extra-curricular activities; the movement of the College along the lines of tradition; the gradual progress toward more modern ideals; and a kaleidoscopic view of the existing physical plant.

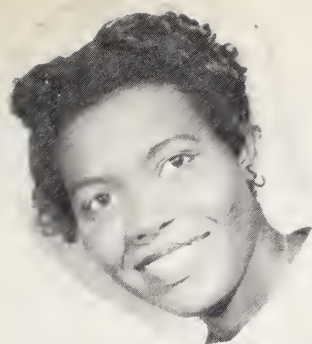

The staff has produced this book with the faith that you will cherish it as you do many old and dear memories. We have earnestly tried to capture that part of college life which we believe will be ever cherished and loved by us all.

To you seniors, we hope that this book will carry for you many treasured memories. As years go by and as you thumb through your yearbook and reminisce, we hope you will have many happy moments to remember.

Yes, this, too, is your ARCH. We hope you like it.

DEDICATION

This years ARCH is dedicated to the late Thurley Brown of West Palm Beach, Florida who passed on November 23, 1956. We lament the sudden passing of our fellow classmate, but in our sorrow, we remind ourselves that tomorrow is uncertain and that life passes away like a shadow. In pausing to give respect to one whom we think portrayed high Christian ideals on campus, we believe that Thurley's having attended Florida Normal made it a better place in which to live simply because he lived here. We know that the years he spent here on campus for intellectual preparation were not easy years, but he did not shirk the responsibilities that they brought. Of this we can all be proud. Thurley will continue to be with us and the tradition of this school for he will be remembered by the qualities of spirit and action that he possessed and exhibited; by his attempt to always display those qualities which reflected a fundamental belief in the sacredness of the individual human personality, his own no less than that of his fellow classmates.

Our prayers, our hopes, and our blessings are in remembrance of you, Thurley Brown.
